Exciting and New!
Audio-Digest lectures are now available via an app! After it is downloaded from either the App Store or Google Play, the app requires the library’s Audio-Digest username and password. This is the same username and password used to access Audio-Digest lectures via the College Library website. If you have never accessed the lectures online, instructions are available in the Audiovisual section of the College Library website. Please note that the instructions are only visible AFTER logging in.
