

BC Health Regulators

Our mandate is to serve and protect the public.

Dear Patient/Client

In BC, the regulatory colleges listed on this page license your health care professionals. As a patient/client of a licensed health care provider you can expect qualified, ethical and safe care. The British Columbia Government recognizes your practitioner as a licensed health professional.

British Columbians can count on these health professionals to deliver safe and responsible care by setting and enforcing standards of practice. With a licensed health professional you can be assured that

- you are being treated safely, ably, and ethically
- you are being treated in accordance with the standards of practice established by the licensing body
- you are receiving responsible care

- the regulatory college plays a role in your safety and responds to complaints from patients, the public and other health care providers
- your treatment is provided in accordance with established standards of practice
- your practitioner has met certain conditions such as
 - graduating from a recognized school
 - successfully completing a rigorous examination process
 - completing a criminal record check
 - providing proof of good character
 - renewing registration each year
