Co-operation with the College

For the College to effectively exercise its legislated mandate to regulate the medical profession in the public interest, College registrants co-operate with and respond to request for information or discussion from the College's governing Board, committees or staff. That requirement is defined in section 4-11 of the Bylaws made under the Health Professions Act as follows:

Registrant's responsibility to the College

- 4-11 (1) Every registrant must
- (a) without limitation, co-operate fully with the College, the board or any committee of the College, or any person or body acting on behalf of or under the direction of the College, the board or any committee,
 - (b) reply promptly to any communication from the College, the board or any of the committees appointed by the board,
 - (c) attend or appear before the registrar, a member of the registrar staff, the board or any of the committees appointed by the board when requested, summoned or notified to do so, and
 - (d) provide such information as determined by the board for annual renewal of licensure.
- (2) A registrant who fails to comply with section 4-11(1) may be found guilty of unprofessional conduct.
